Catholic Schools Week! If you have tuned into Instagram, and I hope that you have, you will have seen the many ways our schools celebrated Catholic Schools Week! Be sure to place your Instagram account onto your website as the pictures offer such a great window into school life. More than anything this week was about marketing to both the internal and the external communities! We celebrate our current students and their families and thereby retain them through graduation!

A Festival that is the icing on the cake of Catholic Schools Week – the “Festival of Catholic High School Choirs” If you haven’t been, you should make a plan to be attend next year. In our 20th year, we continue to celebrate the arts in our schools. The Office for Catholic Schools has chosen Ms. Alison Seaton as the recipient for this year’s Sr. Mary Taylor Educator Excellence Award, given to an educator who provides outstanding, exemplary service to our schools! Alison has voluntarily held this coordinator position for 19 of the 20 years. Alison defers to her colleagues and the willingness on everyone’s part to take on a piece of this one-of-a-kind festival. As Alison so aptly stated in the program, “No one person could ever ‘pull off’ an event like this, and I am grateful beyond expressing to my fellow choir directors!”
Congratulations to Ms. Alison Seaton, Choir Festival Chairperson!
