

Google Classroom Computers: Chromebook Alternative

March 30, 2020

There may be a situation where a student's household doesn't have enough computers for the student, parents, or siblings to share. Some students may have access to an Xbox, PS2, or Kindle capable of some basic Google Classroom assignments. Many other devices, including tablets and TVs, with an Internet browser are likely capable of joining a Google Classroom.

Instructions to access Google Classroom with Xbox

Here are the steps to add it to Xbox:

Home menu

My games and apps

Scroll down to apps

Go to the Edge application

Go to classroom.google.com and sign in

Students will be able to access Canvas and all other digital work same way.

Tom O'Callahan

tom.ocallahan@seattlearch.org

Office for Catholic Schools

Archdiocese of Seattle